

Part 2

You will hear a woman called Jill Arthur giving a talk about walking across the Gobi Desert in Asia. For questions 7–14, complete the sentences.

CROSSING THE GOBI DESERT

To get fit, Jill went speed-walking in London with a

which measured her weekly improvement.

An impractical item Jill bought for the trip was a large

8

which she didn't keep long.

In the desert, a

9

kept Jill awake on the first night.

The food provided at the end of a day's walk included

10

and fruit.

The group found that they couldn't always use a 11

for communication.

Jill said that some sand shapes made by the wind looked like 12

to her.

Jill took some 13

to give to local villagers as presents.

On her return, Jill was delighted that her

won a prize.
